Water Roars Over Main Street In Mishicot

[Herald-Times Photo]

Flood waters and cakes of ice flowed over the highway leading into the village of Mishicot Sunday morning. The water was four and five feet over the pavement along the east section of the main village street. The picture was taken in the midst of a heavy fall of snow. In the center a tractor crew is at work pulling a stranded car out of the high water.

Tractor Tows Stranded Car to High Ground

[Herald-Times Photo]

A small car, stalled in the floodwaters going over the road at Mishicot was towed to safety by a town tractor. The owner stood on the running board and guided the car past cakes of floating ice.